

Gracious God, We lift up our sister churches in Cuba to You today.

In the face of trials and uncertainty, grant them steadfast resilience of heart and spirit.

Help them to stand firm in faith, to support one another with courage and hope, and to endure with joy what others may fear.

Lord of peace, pour Your calm over their communities.

Where there is division, bring reconciliation; where there is fear, bring steadfast courage; where there is fatigue, renew with Your restful presence.

Let their ministries be beacons of mercy and healing amid hardship.

For safety, we ask Your protective hand to cover each church, its leaders, families, and congregations.

Guard them from harm, violence, and danger; guide them to pathways of safety, wisdom, and faithful decision-making.

We thank You for the gift of their witness and the fruit of their labor in Your name.

May resilience, peace, and safety deepen their love for You and for one another, and may their steadfast faith inspire our own.

Through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Amen.
